FOREWORD

FOR twenty-five years, in a limited manner and as opportunity presented itself, I have endeavored to learn as much of the history of my paternal kindred as a busy life would permit. This I have done in the belief that by preserving a record of certain sterling family qualities, which, while not spectacular, are worthy of emulation by younger generations of the family, I may be able to create a valuable record of information and inspiration.

The main purpose in this effort is to register, in as far as possible, the names and achievements, wherever obtainable, of the descendants of Richard Carlisle, my great-great-grandfather, who was born in South Carolina and died in Alabama.

Much of the genealogical material has been furnished by members of various families. To all who have helped in any way, I am grateful and extend my heartfelt thanks.

For purposes of accuracy, I have spent much time in careful research and in continuous checking of the information herein contained. Therefore, I believe that errors have been reduced to a minimum, and request your gracious forbearance, should any have crept in.

It must be noted that important links of connection are often unobtainable due to loss of family Bibles in fires and by enemy invasions, which have caused the destruction of many courthouse records and public documents.

For identification purposes each descendant of Richard Carlisle is numbered in two ways. When his name first appears among the children of his parents, he is given a number preceding his name by which from then on he will be designated. He is also given a small number to the right and above his name, in exponent form, which indicates the generation to which he belongs. If enough material is available to include a biographical sketch of the person, the fact will be indicated by a small plus sign preceding his name. His biography will be found in its proper sequence in the chapter which covers the generation to which he belongs.

Since given names are so often repeated in families, it is advisable to check the line of descent as shown in the parentheses at the beginning of the biographies. For example:

FOREWORD

Ralph Cary[5] Carlisle (George Washington[4]; Charles Milton[3]; Jason[2]; Richard[1]). This merely indicates that Ralph Cary is a son of George Washington, who was a son of Charles Milton, who was a son of Jason, who was a son of Richard. When a woman's name appears in the line of descent, her full maiden name is used for identification.

Abbreviations in this book, besides those which are of customary and general use, are as follows: b. for born; d. for died; m. for married; dau. for daughter.

It is beyond the scope of this effort to attempt a complete genealogical record of the Carlisle family. I shall be compelled to leave the further pursuit of this fascinating undertaking to some other descendant who may have the time, the means, and inclination to follow it through.

INTRODUCTION

THE Carlisle family is one of the oldest families of Great Britain, a branch of which was ennobled in Scotland. Its origin was either British or Saxon, most probably British. The surname is derived from the city of Carlisle, the Capitol of Cumberland, England. The name of the city, as well as of the family, was variously spelled at different periods. Called Lugavellum by the Romans, during their occupation, it was abbreviated by the Britons to Luel or Leol, to which was added the prefix Caer or City, hence Caerluel, Caerleol, Carliell, Carliol, Karlel, Karlyl, Carleil, Carlile, Carlyle and Carlisle.

The recorded history of Carlisle, England is complete since the year 1092, the city having been first mentioned in 685. Situated eight miles south of the Scotch border, it was a fortified town during the long wars between England and Scotland. From this circumstance comes the meaning of the family name Carlisle as "dweller at the fortified tower."

Sir Hildred de Carliell (1060 A.D.) was the founder of the Carlisle family. A man of great importance, he was honored by successive monarchs. The Barony of Carliell, or Carlisle, on which the City of Carliell was erected, the manor of Cumwinton and large possessions on the east side of the Riven Eden, belonged to Sir Hildred, a knight. He lived at Carliell and was called Hildred de Carliell. That ancient surname descended to his posterity who were knights, successively, in England and Scotland.

The Carlisles were originally English. The first members of the family to live in Scotland were colonists who went to Annandale with the Bruces about 1170 A.D. Their descendants were valiant contributors to the final success of King Robert Bruce. Sir William de Carliol was a person of such grandeur and consequence, that he obtained in marriage Lady Margaret Bruce, one of the daughters of Robert, the seventh Earl of Carrick, and sister of the King.

Some members of the Carlisle family removed to Ireland at an early date. Robert Karlel is on record as holding land in 1348, while William de Karlyl was in government service in 1371. He was constituted Chief Baron of the Exchequer in Ireland in 1384.

A study of the origin of the various branches of the family, scattered as they are throughout the British Islands and the United States, indicates that their ancestors all came from the relatively small and closely interrelated areas of Northern England, Southern Scotland and Northern Ireland. In fact, it is believed that their common ancestral background is found as early as the eleventh century, A.D., in Carlisle, England.

Many members of the ancient family of Carlisle were outstanding, as confirmed by history. They served as members of Parliament frequently between 1373 and 1449, during the reigns of Edward III, Richard II, Henry V, and Henry VI.

The first Lord Carlyle was Sir John Carlyle of Torthorwald. He was elevated to the peerage in 1473 by King James III, and was instrumental in suppressing the rebellion of the Earls of Douglas at Annandale, Scotland in 1485. At that time he was rewarded with large grants of land.

A few generations later it was necessary for his estates to pass through the female line, and the title Lord Carlyle became extinct. The estates passed to the descendants of Sir James Douglas of Parkhead, who had been stabbed to death on the street in Edinburgh July 14, 1608, his son holding the estates until his own death in 1638. Then they passed to the Earl of Queensberry, but the title which was a male fee and did not pass with the land, became dormant. It is believed that the title rests with the Lymekilns branch of the family. The Carlyle property, which once comprised nearly half of Annandale, was reduced by 1700 to a few isolated estates.

One of the early Carlisles of London, England was Christopher Carleil, born 1551, and educated at the University of Cambridge. A great soldier and navigator during the reign of Queen Elizabeth, he took an active interest in American discoveries as early as 1574. Historians speak highly of his military skill. He was Lieutenant General of the land forces in the expedition of 1585-86 to the West Indies, with Sir Francis Drake as Admiral, at the head of the fleet.

The family name has acquired considerable literary luster from its being borne by Thomas Carlyle (1795-1881), distinguished author, historian and philosopher. This remarkable man of genius was born at Ecclefechan, Scotland, Dec. 4, 1795.

INTRODUCTION

By the time of the American Revolution (1775-1781), many Carlisles had migrated to the colonies and took an outstanding part in the struggle against England. A few, however, had loyalist leanings and did not favor rebellion against the mother country. An interesting example is that of Abraham Carlisle of Philadelphia, Pa. When the Royal troops took possession of Philadelphia, he accepted an appointment from Sir William Howe to guard the entrances to the city. At the evacuation of the British Army in 1778, the Colonial troops returned, and seized, among others, Abraham Carlisle. He was tried and executed, despite the fact that great efforts were made to save his life. Many citizens denounced the execution as judicial murder. Four thousand people attended his burial.

The Carlisles of England, Scotland and Ireland were distinguished by frankness of manner and integrity of conduct. These traits characterized, as well, their posterity who emigrated to America, many of whom were outstanding also in the fields of literature and statesmanship. Obviously it is impossible to list all who have achieved renown, but the following are of interest.

One such member was John Snyder Carlile (1817-1878) of Virginia, a Representative and a Senator in the Congress of the United States. He also served in the State Senate.

Another member of distinction was Dr. James H. Carlisle (1825-1909), who was for many years president of Wofford College, Spartanburg, S. C., and one of the most profound of mathematicians.

John Griffin Carlisle (1835-1910), served as Lieut. Governor of Kentucky, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Senator and member of President Grover Cleveland's cabinet, being Secretary of the Treasury.

Nicholas Carlisle, a distinguished English author, in 1822 at London, England, published a genealogical collection of the ancient family of Carlisle. In compiling this volume, I feel much as he did when he wrote, "I knew the Name to be honorable—I wished it might have an Historian."

CARLISLE COATS OF ARMS

The coat of arms, as shown on the following page, was used with slight variations by a number of branches of the ancient family of Carlisle, including:

- Carlyle of Locharthur in the parish of New-Abbey, Stewartry of Kirkcudbright.
- Carlyle of Limekilns in the parish of Annan, Shire of Dumfries.
- Carlyle of Boytath in the parish of Torthorwald, Shire of Dumfries.
- Carlyle of Bridekirk in the parish of Annan, Shire of Dumfries.
- Carlyle of Annan, Shire of Dumfries.
- Carlile of Paisley, Shire of Renfrew.
- Carlyle of Pennersaughs, Shire of Dumfries.
- Carlyle or Carlile of Ashgrove in the parish of Newry, County of Down.
- Carlisle of Sedburgh, West Riding, County of York.

The coat of arms of Lord Carlyle of Torthorwald includes the crest, wreath, arms and motto shown in the accompanying illustration, together with coronet and with two peacocks, proper, as supporters.

CHAPTER ONE

FIRST GENERATION

ALTHOUGH there are numerous branches of the Carlisle family and the surname is now found in nearly every state in the union, this history is primarily a study of Richard Carlisle of Marlborough District, S. C., and his descendants. He was born May 29, 1774, and died Dec. 15, 1854. Following the pioneering trend of that period when settlers left the seaboard states and migrated westward in quest of permanent homes, Richard Carlisle and his immediate family left South Carolina in 1832 and settled in Jefferson County, Ala., where, after one hundred twenty-nine years, many of his descendants are still found.

Much authoritative information exists concerning Richard and his sons which is authenticated by early census reports, family Bibles, courthouse and church records. Tradition and research both indicate that Richard's ancestors came to America from England. His mother's name was Phoebe; and it is believed that she was descended from the Puritans of New England. According to the "History of the Old Cheraws", her husband was among the first to volunteer to resist British oppression and was mortally wounded at the battle of Bunker Hill during the American Revolution.

Carlisles In Early South Carolina

According to tradition, the Carlisles came to South Carolina from Virginia. Phoebe Carlisle is shown as head of the household with a sixteen-year-old son, [Richard] in the U. S. Census of 1790. At that time they were living in Cheraw District, S. C., which was later divided into several districts, one of which was Marlborough, now Marlboro County. At one time they lived in the area of Dyer's Hill and Crooked Creek. After Richard married, it is believed that he lived in the village which grew up around Marlboro County's first courthouse.

The village where the first courthouse was built was called simply "the courthouse." In later years it became known as "Carlisle," having been named for Richard Carlisle. The village of Carlisle was located six miles west and a little south of present-day Bennettsville. It was the county seat for thirty-four years, until the increase of population in the central and eastern parts of the county made it desirable that the seat of government be moved to a more conveniently accessible place. A granite block set a little back in a field, alongside a dirt road, is the only reminder that here was once the village of Carlisle. Incised into the stone is the legend:

"The site of the first courthouse, built 1785, removed to its present site, Bennettsville, S. C., Dec. 14, 1819. This marker erected Dec. 14, 1919, by Pee Dee Chapter D. A. R. and citizens of Marlboro County."

The first appearance of Richard Carlisle's name at the new Marlboro County Courthouse was in regard to real estate transactions. The record shows that he bought 107½ acres of land on the northeast side of the Great Pee Dee River for $125 from Bartholomew Cosnahan Aug. 12, 1818, and 100 acres of land on the northeast side of the Great Pee Dee River and on Muddy Creek for $400 from Benjamin Stubbs, four years later, Mar. 12, 1822. He executed a mortgage on a debt of $109.10 to John F. Wilson on Mar. 4, 1823, and sold 100 acres of land on the east side of Muddy Creek to John L. McRae for $237 Sept. 4, 1823.

Another record at the courthouse shows that Richard Carlisle served as administrator of the estate of Lewis Terrill, who died in 1821.

Richard was a staunch member of the Baptist Church, and is mentioned in the "History of the Pee Dee Baptist Association" as having represented Muddy Creek Baptist Church at Baptist conventions, alone for several years; but in 1822 William Thomas and Richard Carlisle together represented the church.

A few years later, it is presumed, that he moved to the Salem Baptist Church community, near Bennettsville, where he had a farm adjoining that of James Carlisle, who, according to tradition, was his nephew.

The records of the Salem Baptist Church show that Richard Carlisle was received as a member by letter Apr. 9, 1825. His son, Jason Carlisle, became a member of the church June 18, 1826, and Permelia Carlisle, Jason's wife, joined the church in Aug., 1826. Joel Carlisle, Richard's son, became a member May 18, 1829. Edward James Carlisle, Sr., also, a son of Richard, and Edward James' wife, Luensor, joined the church June 20, 1829. Sarah Carlisle, wife of Richard, joined July 18, 1829.

Carlisle Migration to Alabama

After the death of Phoebe Carlisle, mother of Richard, June 17, 1831, he and his family made a momentious decision, that of moving westward, as some of their neighbors were doing. Being devout and meticulous church members, they requested their letters of dismission from Salem Baptist Church: Jason Carlisle, Nov. 20, 1830; Joel Carlisle and wife, Nancy [Ann], Dec. 18, 1831; Permelia Carlisle, wife of Jason, 1832; Richard Carlisle and wife, Sarah, Jan. 14, 1832; and Edward James Carlisle, Sr., and wife, Luensor, Feb. 9, 1832. These dates indicate that Jason, as the eldest living son, had been designated to go to Alabama in advance of the rest of the family to discover what opportunities were available there for new settlers.

Jason, undoubtedly, located an ideal spot; and we next find Richard Carlisle and his family in Jefferson County, Alabama. They settled in beautiful Ruhama Valley, known today as Jones Valley. The place where they built their homes is now the East Lake section of Birmingham. The Creek Indians had lived in Ruhama Valley, one of their favorite hunting grounds, where there were many springs; and although a treaty had been signed following the Creek War, (1813-1814), many Indians still roamed the forests.

Richard Carlisle was received into Ruhama Baptist Church by letter in May, 1832. During his connection with the church, he served on many important committees, and was appointed a delegate to various Baptist Association meetings. Active in all affairs of church, he sometimes led the services in the sanctuary. His name is mentioned twice in the book, "Ruhama—The Story of a Church," by Thomas E. Huey. Richard received a letter of dismission from Ruhama in Jan., 1854, presumably to unite with a Baptist Church in Jackson Co., Ala., to which section he had moved prior to his death. He is buried in the Longacre Ceme-

The children of (1) Richard[1] and Sarah (Burkett) Carlisle were:

12 Agnes Jane[2], b. Oct. 19, 1823 in Marlboro Co., S. C.; d. May. 21, 1870; m. William H. Harrison in Jefferson Co., Ala., Nov. 5, 1844.
+ 13 Phillip Giles[2], b. Dec. 22, 1824; d. May. 16, 1897.
14 Ann Phoebe[2], b. June 17, 1832, in Ala., on the first anniversary of the death of her grandmother, Phoebe Carlisle.

CHAPTER TWO

SECOND GENERATION

5 Jason[2] Carlisle, (son of Richard[1]) was born in Marlboro Co., S. C., Oct. 23, 1806. It is quite probable that his early childhood was spent in the village of Carlisle, site of the first courthouse of Marlboro Co., which had been named for his father, Richard Carlisle.

At the age of nineteen Jason married Permelia Ann Elizabeth Stubbs, daughter of Lewis and Mary Stubbs, residents of Marlboro Co. Both were born in South Carolina, Lewis Stubbs in 1781 and his wife in 1782. They migrated in 1833 to Pike Co., Ala., where they farmed. Lewis Stubbs was an industrious and patriotic citizen, served in the War of 1812. He died in 1853 at the age of 72. In his will, made Aug. 20, 1853, and recorded in the Pike Co. courthouse, Troy, Ala., he mentioned his daughter, Permelia (Stubbs) Carlisle.

Jason moved from Marlboro Co., S. C., to Jefferson Co., Ala., in about 1830. The first land he owned in Alabama was 81 acres which he purchased Dec. 30, 1831, near what is now the East Lake section of Birmingham. Two or three years later he moved to Pike, now Bullock Co., Ala., settling six miles south of Union Springs. He lived there about six years, after which he came back to Jefferson Co., and farmed.

Again Pike County called Jason; and he returned, this time settling near Orion in 1846, where he lived for about twenty-five years. The U. S. Census of 1850 shows him a prosperous farmer with thirteen slaves. He owned 1,000 acres of land and was outstanding in the community. During the Civil War, four of his sons served in the Confederate Army, the youngest of whom was killed in battle. The war was costly to Jason in more ways than one. Another son, who served throughout the war, died soon after its close, of disease contracted in the service. His slaves had been set free and he sold considerable land for Confederate money, which at the close of the war became worthless.

In 1872, Jason moved back to Jefferson County where he spent the remaining years of his life. His farm, consisting of 140 acres, which he purchased Aug. 23, 1872, was situated between Trussville and Chalkville; the house in which he lived is still standing. He was a hard-working, self-made man, devoted to his family. He served in the Creek War in 1836. A consistent and liberal member of the Baptist Church, he served as a deacon for nearly a half century. Jason Carlisle died Jan. 13, 1880. His grave, clearly marked with complete information on a well preserved stone, is in Cahaba Baptist Church cemetery, Trussville, Ala.

Jason Carlisle married three times; first, July 23, 1826, Permelia Ann Elizabeth Stubbs, born in 1808, Marlboro Co., S. C.; died in 1853 near Orion, Ala.; buried in China Grove, Ala. His second wife was Matilda Emeline Rogers, whom he married Dec. 29, 1853. He married Catherine Fortune Jan. 26, 1860. Born Catherine Allen in 1823, as a young woman she had married Joshua Fortune, who was the first person to be buried in the Baptist Church cemetery at Spring Hill, Pike Co., Ala. He was born Jan. 12, 1820, and died Aug. 8, 1859. Her second husband was Jason Carlisle. Although Catherine never had children of her own, she was a devoted mother to Jason's small children, Mutie and Bennie. Her third husband was Billie Massey of Argo, Ala. After his death about 1901, she returned to Trussville to live with Jason Carlisle's relatives, and was affectionately known as "Grandma Massey." She died July 27, 1910. Her grave is by the side of that of Jason Carlisle, her second husband, in the Cahaba Baptist Church cemetery.

The children of (5) Jason[2] and Permelia Ann Elizabeth (Stubbs) Carlisle were:

+15 Charles Milton[3], b. May 3, 1827; d. May 28, 1896.
+16 William L.[3], b. June 8, 1828.
17 James T.[3], b. Dec. 4, 1829; d. Sept. 14, 1848 .
18 John E.[3], b. Mar. 11, 1832; d. July 12, 1833.
+19 Francis Jason[3], b. Apr. 5, 1834; d. Jan. 24, 1914.

+20 Mary Ann Elizabeth[3], b. Apr. 30, 1836; d. May 2, 1936.
+21 Joel Malachi[3], b. June 11, 1838; d. Nov. 24, 1928.
+22 Richard Moses[3], b. May 18, 1840; d. July 22, 1916.
+23 Thomas J. J.[3], b. Feb. 11, 1843; d. 1864.
+24 Martha E.[3], b. Apr. 20, 1845.
+25 Hamutal A.[3], b. Sept. 27, 1851; d. Jan. 29, 1941.

The only child of (5) Jason[2] and Emeline (Rogers) Carlisle was:

26 Benjamin F. (Bennie)[3], b. Oct. 7, 1857, in Pike Co., Ala.; d. Aug. 25, 1880, in Jefferson Co., Ala.; m. Theodosia __________, b. 1858 in Ala.

7 Edward James[2] Carlisle, Sr. (Son of Richard[1]), born June 17, 1810, Marlboro Co., S. C.; married Luensor __________, b. 1809, in South Carolina. They moved to Alabama in 1832. Their names appear on an early membership roll of the Cahaba Baptist Church, Trussville, Ala.

The children of (7) Edward James, Sr.[2], and Luensor (________) Carlisle were:

27 Permelia[3], b. Aug. 22, 1831; d. Oct. 10, 1906; m. Thomas J. Stubbs Dec. 9, 1851. He was b. June 5, 1820; d. Aug., 1892.
+28 Edward James, Jr.[3], b. 1835.
29 Jane[3], b. 1836, in Ala.
+30 Enos T.[3], b. 1838.
31 Nancy[3], b. 1840, in Ala.
32 Henry[3], b. 1844, in Ala.
33 Harriet[3], twin of Henry, b. 1844, in Ala.
34 Lewis[3], b. 1847, in Ala.
35 Jasper[3], b. 1849, in Ala.; d. Mar., 1860. (burned to death)

8 Joel[2] Carlisle (son of Richard[1]), born in Marlboro Co., S. C., Dec. 8, 1812; died in 1887; married Nancy [Ann] Covington in 1829. She was born in 1800 in South Carolina, and died in 1876. They migrated to Alabama in 1832, settling in Ruhama Valley in what is now the East Lake section of Birmingham. They were received into Ruhama

Baptist Church by letter in May, 1832. Joel and his wife are buried in Cahaba Baptist Church cemetery, Trussville, Ala.

The children of (8) Joel^2 and Nancy (Covington) Carlisle were:

+36 Mary Elizabeth^3, b. July 27, 1831; d. Oct. 21, 1907.
+37 William Thomas^3, b. Aug. 11, 1833; d. Oct. 12, 1877.
+38 Jason Hartwell^3, b. Sept., 1835.
39 Nancy Jane^3, b. July 28, 1838 in Ala.; m. Jan. 30, 1859, Richard Blake, brother of Mary Blake, wife of William Thomas Carlisle.

9 Moses^2 Carlisle (son of Richard^1), born Mar. 13, 1815, Marlboro Co., S. C.; died Dec. 23, 1864, Shelby Springs, Shelby Co., Ala., and is buried there; married Gillia M. Wood, born in South Carolina Oct. 13, 1816; died Mar. 27, 1900, Jefferson Co., Ala., buried at New Bethel, near Warrior, Ala. She was the daughter of Joseph Wood, born Dec., 1782, and Clarissa Wood, born June 6, 1790. At one time Moses and Gillia were members of Ruhama Baptist Church in East Lake, Jefferson Co., Ala. He was received by experience in Nov., 1845, and his wife by letter in Feb., 1850. They were living in Pike Co., Ala., with their six children when the U. S. Census of 1860 was taken.

The children of (9) Moses^2 and Gillia M. (Wood) Carlisle were:

40 Clarissa J.^{3}, b. Mar. 14, 1842, Jefferson Co., Ala.; d. Nov. 24, 1924; buried in New Bethel, near Warrior, Ala.; m. twice, first, June 23, 1881, L. A. Reid, b. Sept. 2, 1845; d. May 15, 1886; second, Nov. 15, 1902, E. J. Carlisle, b. July 7, 1831; d. Aug. 17, 1906.

CHAPTER THREE

THIRD GENERATION

15 Charles Milton^3 Carlisle (Jason^2; Richard^1), born May 3, 1827, Marlboro Co., S. C.; died suddenly May 28, 1896, while on a trip to Tampa, Fla. He married Nov. 21, 1850, in Pike Co., Ala., Emily F. Rabb, born Mar. 1, 1826, in Georgia; died Aug. 6, 1895. She was the daughter of Robert and Patience Rabb, natives of South Carolina, from which state they removed to Georgia and about 1846, to Pike Co., and there died.

The will of Robert Rabb is recorded in the Pike Co. courthouse, Troy, Ala. He was a son of James Rabb of Fairfield Co., S. C., a soldier in the American Revolution. The will of James Rabb is filed in the courthouse of Fairfield Co., Winnsboro, S. C. Robert Rabb's wife, Patience, was the daughter of John Glazier, who served as a Captain in the American Revolution. His will, also, is filed in the courthouse of Fairfield Co., Winnsboro, S. C.

Universally considered one of the outstanding citizens of Pike Co., Ala., Charles Milton served the people of that county; first, as physician and then as superintendent of education, to which office he was elected in 1890. He graduated when twenty-four years of age, from Orion Institute, a newly organized academy founded in 1848 by an act of the Alabama Legislature, and supported by donations from private citizens.

For three years after leaving Orion Institute, Charles Milton taught school; but soon decided to give the greater part of his time to agriculture. He acquired through his own effort considerable land, which he lost during the Civil War. However, at the time of his death he owned an excellent farm of 540 acres. At the beginning of the war he was Postmaster at Henderson, Ala.

The need for physicians at this time was so great that he began in 1863 the practice of medicine. As a loyal member of the medical profession, he took an active interest in the proceedings of the Pike County Medical Society, and the Ala. Medical Association, with which he was affiliated.

Dr. Carlisle was a member of the Masonic Order for forty-two years, having been initiated Oct. 14, 1854. Spring Hill Lodge No. 536, A. F. & A. M., Pike Co., Ala., was established mainly through his efforts and means. The following quotation is from the Memorial Resolutions of Spring Hill Masonic Lodge:

"As a physician, Dr. Carlisle was an original thinker and painstaking practitioner. He was ever charitable to the poor, and gave all the years of his life to his God and to the well being and advancement of his fellowman."

The children of (15) Charles Milton[3] and Emily (Rabb) Carlisle were:

+80 Robert Jason[4], b. Oct. 1, 1851; d. Nov. 18, 1914.
+81 LaFayette Alexander[4], b. Dec. 22, 1853; d. Apr. 3, 1931.
+82 George Washington[4], b. May 28, 1856; d. June 28, 1896.
+83 Vandilla Permelia[4], b. Jan. 22, 1859; d. June 10, 1936.
+84 Charles Sandford[4], b. Oct. 12, 1864; d. Dec. 13, 1896.

16 William Lewis[3] Carlisle (Jason[2]; Richard[1]), born in Marlboro Co., S. C., June 8, 1828; married twice; first, Jan. 31, 1850, Martha E. Thornton, who died May 7, 1852, daughter of Job and Mary Thornton. His second wife, whom he married Aug. 11, 1853, was Sarah Williams, born 1836 in Georgia, daughter of W. B. Williams. Enlisting in Co. K. 37th Ala. Infantry, Mar. 17, 1862, at Spring Hill, Pike Co., Ala., he served until his Company surrendered at the close of the Civil War. He died a short time later of disease contracted while in service.

The children of (16) William Lewis[3] and Sarah (Williams) Carlisle were:

85 Butler H.[4], b. in 1854, Pike Co., Ala.
86 John A.[4], b. in 1856, Pike Co., Ala.

19 Francis Jason[3] Carlisle (Jason[2]; Richard[1]), born Apr. 5, 1834, in Pike, now Bullock Co., Ala.; died Jan. 24, 1914. He married June 16, 1854, Sarah Ann Elafair Wood of China Grove, (Linwood), Ala., born Nov. 27, 1836; died Sept. 20, 1901. Francis Jason served in Co. H., 57th Ala. Infantry during the Civil War. Enlisting at Troy, Ala., May 25, 1863, he continued in service until his regiment surrendered at Greensboro, N. C., at the close of the war. He spent the greater part of his adult life as a farmer and merchant at Union Springs, Ala., where he owned considerable property and was an outstanding citizen.

The children of (19) Francis Jason^3 and Sarah Ann Elafair (Wood) Carlisle were:

+87 Permelia Ann Elizabeth^4, b. Apr. 24, 1855; d. Mar. 31, 1927.
88 Savanna^4, b. May 7, 1857; d. July 17, 1858.
89 George Franklin^4, b. July 7, 1859; d. Aug. 12, 1926; m. Martha Loughenia Rolling, Dec. 19, 1892.
+90 James Thomas^4, b. June 6, 1861; d. Aug. 25, 1904.
+91 Lee Elonzo^4, b. Sept. 1, 1863; d. Apr. 17, 1906.
92 Henry Jackson^4, b. Mar. 10, 1866; d. 1875.
93 Sallie^4, b. Dec. 22, 1867; d. Jan. 28, 1918; m. James J. Shirley, b. Aug. 21, 1870; d. July 4, 1940. They had only one child who died in infancy.
+94 Jason Lewis^4, b. Dec. 25, 1869; d. Oct. 4, 1952.
95 Jesse^4, b. Jan. 30, 1872; d. Sept., 1875.
+96 Pompie Worthy^4, b. June 18, 1874; d. Nov. 15, 1929.
97 Comer^4, b. Feb. 22, 1878; d. Mar. 12, 1880.
+98 Jackson C. (Jack)^4, b. Feb. 15, 1880; d. June 16, 1951.

20 Mary Ann Elizabeth^3 Carlisle (Jason^2; Richard^1), born Apr. 30, 1836, near China Grove, Pike Co., Ala.; died May 2, 1936 at Palmyra, Pike Co., Ala., a few days after her one hundredth birthday anniversary. Among her survivors were six daughters, two sons, one sister, thirty-two grandchildren, eighty-seven great-grandchildren and thirteen great-great-grandchildren. Her grave is in the Baptist Church cemetery, Spring Hill, Ala.

The long and courageous life of Mary Ann Elizabeth is of special interest. Her mother having died, Mary Ann Elizabeth married at the age of seventeen. When the Civil War began, she and her husband were pioneering on a homestead in Taylor Co., Fla. He enlisted in the Confederate Army, leaving her and their small children in the wilderness. In those days there were few white settlers in Florida, and life was rugged at its best. Her husband died at the close of the war of wounds received in the service. After his burial on the homestead, she packed some of her household goods in a wagon, and abandoning what remained, started with her five small children on the long hazardous journey back to her father's home in Pike Co., Ala. The trip was fraught with constant danger; lurking Indians, flooded streams and nights spent out-of-doors. At one river crossing the horse and wagon had to be pulled across on a small raft. Finally, after many days, she reached her destination where she lived until her second marriage.

Mary Ann Elizabeth Carlisle married twice; first, Oct. 2, 1853, John Marion Faulkner, born Oct. 5, 1830, Pike Co., Ala.; died Feb. 4, 1865 in Taylor Co., Fla. Her second husband was William Nathan Harvell, born Mar. 10, 1849, Pike Co., Ala.; died there June 10, 1922.

The children of John Marion and (20) Mary Ann Elizabeth^3 (Carlisle) Faulkner were:

+ 99 Permelia Ann Elizabeth^4 Faulkner, b. June 26, 1854; d. May 7, 1941.
100 Mary Jane^4 Faulkner, b. Mar. 5, 1857; m. James Bryan of Goshen, Ala.
+ 101 Martha Ellen^4 Faulkner, b. Sept. 8, 1859.
102 William Jefferson^4 Faulkner, b. Jan. 30, 1862; m. twice, first Jodie ________, second, Martha Folmar.
103 Ada Ann^4 Faulkner, b. Oct. 28, 1864; m. Thaddeus Johnson of Pike Co., Ala.

The children of William Nathan and (20) Mary Ann Elizabeth^3 (Carlisle) (Faulkner) Harvell, all of whom were born in Pike Co., Ala., were:

104 Temon Cora^4 Harvell, b. May 18, 1870; m. J. Thomas Sanders of Goshen, Ala.

105 Thomas Jason^4 Harvell, b. Mar. 5, 1872; m. Ida Tew of Palmyra, Ala.
+106 Eula Idolia^4 Harvell, b. May 28, 1874.
107 Ida^4 Harvell, b. Apr. 2, 1877; m. Oct. 4, 1892, C. O. Drinkard of Palmyra, Ala. Mrs. Drinkard now lives in Pensacola, Fla.; and has the family Bible that belonged to her mother.

21 Joel Malachi^3 Carlisle (Jason^2; Richard^1), born June 11, 1838, Pike Co., Ala.; died Nov. 24, 1928 in Chalkville, Ala. He married Oct. 20, 1857, Sarah Elizabeth Grant, born May 26, 1839; died June 26, 1901. She was the daughter of Wilson and Lucy Ann (Stubbs) Grant of Pike Co., Ala. Joel Malachi served in the 37th Ala. Infantry during the Civil War. In 1872, he removed to Jefferson Co., Ala., and bought a place near Chalkville, adjoining his father's property. He transferred his membership from the Baptist Church at China Grove to the Cahaba Baptist Church in Trussville in Jan., 1874. He had joined the former church July 22, 1857. For a number of years he served as Postmaster at Chalkville, Ala.

The children of (21) Joel Malachi^3 and Sarah Elizabeth (Grant) Carlisle were:

108 Mary Jane^4, b. Sept. 26, 1858; d. June 22, 1860.
109 Martha Ann^4, b. Oct. 18, 1861; d. in Texas.
110 Josephine Elizabeth^4, b. Apr. 30, 1864; d. Nov. 2, 1866.
+111 Victoria A.^{4}, b. July 23, 1866; d. Jan. 4, 1929.
112 Emma Eudorah^4, b. Sept. 22, 1870; m. James Fletcher; they moved to Texas and died there.
+113 Joel Oscar^4, b. Mar. 7, 1872; d. Mar. 30, 1956.
+114 William Malachi^4, b. Aug. 16, 1875; d. Jan. 24, 1933.

22 Richard Moses^3 Carlisle (Jason^2; Richard^1), born May 18, 1840, in Milo, Pike Co., Ala.; died July 22, 1916, in Macon, Ga.; married Oct. 31, 1861, Mary Ann Elizabeth Allen, in Troy, Ala. She was born Mar. 1, 1841, near Yatesville, Ga.; died Apr. 3, 1914, in Macon, Ga.. Richard Carlisle met Mary Allen from Georgia while she was visiting her aunt, Mrs. Jennie (Allen) Lockard in Troy.

Mary Allen was the daughter of Young Asbury and Elizabeth (Chancellor) Allen of Upson Co., Ga. Young Allen was born Mar. 8, 1816 and died Aug. 11, 1894. His wife was born Dec. 20, 1816 and died June 16, 1892. Their graves are in Arnold Methodist Church cemetery, near Yatesville, Ga., by the side of their son, Pope Asbury Allen, a Confederate soldier killed in service during the Civil War. He was born Mar. 11, 1846, and died July 4, 1864. Mary Allen was also a sister of Joseph Young Allen, statesman, Baptist minister, and prominent attorney of Thomaston, Ga.

Richard and Mary made their home in Fox, Upson Co., Ga., where they engaged in farming and operated the Post Office, Richard being Postmaster. The old homestead where they reared a large family is still in existence. Late in life, after having lived in Unadilla, Ga., for several years, Richard and Mary moved to Macon, Ga., to live with their youngest daughter and her husband, Aulena (Carlisle) Yates and Durwood Yates. It was there they died, having lived long lives of usefulness, an inspiration to all who knew them. Their graves are in Riverside Cemetery in Macon.

Richard Carlisle always took a keen interest in matters pertaining to the medical profession. He originated, developed, and promoted several remedies which he manufactured and distributed in Georgia. He was affectionately known as "Dr. Carlisle." He was a modest and reserved man, who did many acts of kindness. For instance, the author of this history, as the oldest child in a large family, would never have had a college education, except for his grandfather's generosity. The fact that his gifts were kept secret was made clear when the author repaid this sum to the heirs of his estate, and it was found that the transaction had not been recorded.

The children of (22) Richard^3 and Mary (Allen) Carlisle were:

+115 Sallie Elizabeth^4, b. Dec. 6, 1862.
+116 Jeremiah Benjamin^4, b. May 15, 1865; d. in 1928.

+117 Richard Ellison[4], b. Feb. 6, 1867; d. Sept. 26, 1905.
+118 Cora T.[4], b. Nov. 7, 1869; d. Nov. 15, 1952.
+119 Beulah Benson[4], b. Jan. 31, 1871; d. May 19, 1960.
+120 Joseph Young[4], b. June 24, 1876; d. Jan. 17, 1951.
+121 Aulena[4], b. Aug. 25, 1879; d. Jan. 1, 1952.

23 Thomas J. J.[3] Carlisle (Jason[2]; Richard[1]), was born Feb. 11, 1843. He was a student at Ruhama Academy in East Lake, Jefferson Co., Ala., when the Civil War began, causing the Academy to close. Returning to his home in Pike Co., he remained there a short time and then volunteered for service in the Confederate Army. Thomas enlisted in Co. I, 17th Ala. Infantry in Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 16, 1861. Wounded at the battle of Shiloh, Apr. 6, 1862, he was captured at Pitts Landing the next day. He was admitted to U. S. A. General Hospital, Camp Dennison, Ohio, Apr. 20, 1862. He was among the 1020 prisoners of war from Camp Chase, Ohio, exchanged on board the steamer "John H. Done" near Vicksburg, Miss., Sept. 11, 1862.

According to tradition, Thomas told his older brother, Francis Jason, on the night before one of the several battles fought at Resaca, Ga., in 1864, of his premonition that he would not survive the next engagement. Thomas wanted to give his gold watch to his brother, but was encouraged to keep it. Francis Jason never saw Thomas again, and it is presumed that he was killed in the major battle fought the next day.

24 Martha E.[3] Carlisle (Jason[2]; Richard[1]), born Apr. 20, 1845, in Alabama; married David Zechariah (Dock) Allen, son of Young Asbury and Elizabeth (Chancellor) Allen of Upson Co., Ga. Dock Allen's grave is in Arnold Methodist Church cemetery, near Yatesville, Ga. Martha died in Macon, Ga., and is buried there in Riverside Cemetery.

The children of Dock and (24) Martha E.[3] (Carlisle) Allen were:

25 Hamutal A.[3] Carlisle(Jason[2]; Richard[1]), born Sept. 27, 1851, in Pike Co., Ala.; died Jan. 29, 1941, in Trussville, Ala. She married twice; first, John Stephens; second, Nov. 8, 1881, James Alfred Glenn, born July 3, 1833; died Jan. 8, 1919. He was a merchant and prominent citizen of Trussville, Ala.

The only child of John and (25) Hamutal A.[3] (Carlisle) Stephens was:

+128 Thomas Jason[4] Stephens, b. May 14, 1874; d. July 8, 1940.

The children of James Alfred and (25) Hamutal A.[3] (Carlisle) (Stephens) Glenn were:

+129 Eula Catherine[4] Glenn, b. Dec. 29, 1882.
130 Charles Bruce[4] Glenn, b. Apr. 16, 1885; d. Mar. 25, 1931, in railroad accident; m. Hattie Bailey. Their only child was Alfred Glenn.
131 Lee[4] Glenn, b. Sept. 4, 1888; d. Mar. 13, 1889.

28 Edward James[3] Carlisle, Jr. (Edward James, Sr.[2]; Richard[1]), born 1835 in Alabama; died at Vance Station, Ala.; married Oct. 16, 1854, Nancy C. Moore, born 1840 in Alabama. During the Civil War, he volunteered Sept. 9, 1861, for service in Co. C, 20th Ala. Infantry which was organized at Ruhama Academy in East Lake, Jefferson Co., Ala. Captured at Vicksburg, Miss., July 4, 1863, he was paroled there a short time later. He was mustered out of service May 2, 1865, at Salisbury, N. C.

The children of (28) Edward James, Jr.³ and Nancy C. (Moore) Carlisle were:

+132 Hepsie Ellen⁴, b. Jan. 18, 1856.
+133 William Henry⁴, b. Jan. 8, 1858; d. Apr. 16, 1938.
+134 J. Davis⁴, b. Jan. 18, 1862; d. Apr. 22, 1951.
+135 Curtis Porter⁴, b. June 23, 1866; d. Mar. 5, 1919.
136 Warren⁴, b. 1869 in Alabama.
137 Hester Ophelia⁴, b. 1873 in Ala.; d. in the home of her son, Pierce Caffee, Greenpond, Ala.; m. Ben Caffee.

30 Enos T.³ Carlisle (Edward James, Sr.²; Richard¹), born 1838 in Alabama; died in service during the Civil War. According to tradition, he is buried on Ship Island, Miss. He married Sept. 9, 1858, Mary E. Taylor.

The children of (30) Enos T.³ and Mary E. (Taylor) Carlisle were:

+138 Thomas Jefferson, Sr.⁴, b. Dec. 21, 1859; d. July 1, 1938.
+139 Lewis⁴.

36 Mary Elizabeth³ Carlisle (Joel²; Richard¹), born July 27, 1831 in Marlboro Co., S. C.; died Oct. 21, 1907, Jefferson Co., Ala.; buried in Cahaba Baptist Church cemetery, Trussville, Ala.; married Isaiah W. Franklin in 1851. He was one of the five sons of Thomas Franklin killed in the Civil War.

The children of Isaiah W. and (36) Mary Elizabeth³ (Carlisle) Franklin were:

140 Williamson⁴ Franklin.
141 Dyer⁴ Franklin.
142 John⁴ Franklin.
143 William M.⁴ Franklin, b. in 1860.
144 Ellen⁴ Franklin, m. Dyer Sams.

37 William Thomas³ Carlisle (Joel²; Richard¹), born Aug. 11, 1833, in Alabama; was accidently killed Oct. 12, 1877, when a crowbar fell on him while working at the bottom of a well. He married, July 21, 1856, Mary Blake, born Feb. 20, 1834; died Oct. 11, 1906. William Thomas served in Co. B, 44th Ala. Infantry during the Civil War.

In the autumn of 1877, soon after William Thomas' untimely death, Mary, his widow, visited his grave in the Cahaba Baptist Church cemetery in Trussville. To reach there, she rode horseback on a side saddle. En route, she pulled a shoot from a holly tree to use as a riding switch. Arriving at the cemetery she stuck the switch in the ground near her husband's grave, forgetting it when she left. On her return in the spring she found it there, alive and growing. Today, eighty-four years later, this enormous holly tree with four huge branches, is the second largest tree in the cemetery, being exceeded in height only by a venerable magnolia. Mary is buried at the side of her husband near the holly tree, a symbol of her devotion.

The children of (37) William Thomas[3] and Mary (Blake) Carlisle were:

+ 145 Rachel George Ann[4], b. Oct. 25, 1857; d. Apr. 18, 1949.

CHAPTER SEVEN

RELATED CARLISLES IN SOUTH CAROLINA

WHEN Richard Carlisle migrated with his family to Alabama in 1832, he left in Marlboro Co., S. C., James Carlisle, who, according to tradition, was his nephew, having been reared in the home of Richard's mother, Phoebe Carlisle.

James Carlisle (1802-1882) was an energetic and successful farmer. Being a public-spirited citizen, he established and helped maintain a school in his community. He was a deacon and trustee of Salem Baptist Church near Bennettsville, and for fifty years a devoted member.

James married four times; first, Isabella Johnson, who died Apr. 11, 1829, daughter of Peter Johnson; second, Willie Johnson, who died Apr. 23, 1833, daughter of William Johnson; third, Charlotta McDaniel, born June 26, 1812, died Sept. 14, 1852, daughter of George McDaniel; fourth, Mary Graham, born 1824, died 1902, daughter of John G. Graham.

The only child by the first marriage was Mary Ann; another daughter, Celia Ann, was born to the second marriage. The children by the third marriage were: Elizabeth, Ellen, Susan, Thomas Franklin, Joseph A., Benjamin and Jane.

Still living in the general area where James Carlisle made his home are the descendants of two of his children, Ellen (Carlisle) Freeman, and Thomas Franklin Carlisle. These descendants have contributed greatly to the cultural and civic life of their communities.

Ellen, second daughter of James and Charlotta (McDaniel) Carlisle, was born May 1, 1839, and died Oct. 26, 1919. She married John W. Freeman, who was born May 11, 1827, and died May 13, 1899. Their children were: Mary Freeman, Robert Lawrence Freeman, George W. Freeman, Sr., Annie Freeman, Carrie Freeman and John J. Freeman.

Robert Lawrence Freeman, oldest son of John W. and Ellen (Carlisle) Freeman, prominent leader in public affairs, was born Jan. 1, 1871 and died Dec. 31, 1926. He served as State Senator, member of the Legislature and Superintendent of Education of Marlboro County, S. C. For twenty-five years he was owner and editor of the "Pee Dee Advocate", county newspaper published in Bennettsville.

He married June 20, 1906, Alice Eleanor Moore, who was born Mar. 23, 1878, and died Dec. 30, 1934. Their children are:

Ellen Freeman, born Nov. 30, 1909; residence, Columbia, S. C.

Alice Freeman, born Oct. 19, 1913; died Feb. 14, 1917.

Milton Moore Freeman, born Mar 11, 1916. When the author first went to South Carolina in 1958, to search for records pertaining to the Carlisle and allied families, he was directed to Milton Freeman of Bennettsville. By inheritance and aptitude, he is a devoted student of South Carolina history. His unfailing interest in the research work necessary for the compilation of this history was a constant inspiration, and is deeply appreciated.

George William Freeman, Sr., son of John W. and Ellen (Carlisle) Freeman, was born Aug. 5, 1874, and died Dec. 9, 1954. A highly respected citizen in Bennettsville, S. C., he served as first vice-president and director of Planter's National Bank and trustee and deacon of Thomas Memorial Baptist Church. In 1920, he and Warren Moore founded Freeman-Moore Co., which later became Freeman & Company.

The author is deeply grateful to Mr. Freeman, who, in 1937, furnished information which resulted in establishing Marlboro Co., S. C. as the early home of the Carlisles, from which Richard Carlisle and his family migrated to Alabama.

G. W. Freeman, Sr., married Gertrude Tart in 1901. She was born Feb. 13, 1884 and died Nov. 11, 1951. Their children are:

Ina Gertrude Freeman, born Oct. 8, 1902; died Feb. 27, 1904.

Sarah Ellen Freeman, graduated from Coker College; married Dr. Paul E. Sasser of Conway, S. C.

George William Freeman, Jr., born Apr. 18, 1908; died Apr. 24, 1955; graduated from Furman University; practiced law in Bennettsville; served as city attorney, county attorney and member of the South Carolina House of Representatives; married Mary Whitaker Haile.

John Morrison Freeman, born in 1914; attended University of South Carolina; married Emmie Dozier Tompkins. They live in Bennettsville.

Thomas Franklin Carlisle, oldest son of James and Charlotta (McDaniel) Carlisle, was born near Salem Baptist Church July 6, 1844, and died Apr. 5, 1933, having spent most of his life, except the war years, in the vicinity of Tatum, S. C. At the age of 16, he enlisted in the Confederate Army, serving in Co. G, Twenty-third Regiment, South Carolina Volunteers, and was wounded at Fort Sumter and Petersburg.

He married Mary J. Conner whose life span extended from Apr. 24, 1849 to May 17, 1922. Their children are: Beulah Jane, Daisy, Maston Thomas and Benjamin Franklin.

Beulah Jane Carlisle was born in Marlboro Co., S. C., Nov. 6, 1877, and died in 1954. She attended Converse and Winthrop Colleges, received an A.B. degree, and taught school in Aiken, S. C. She married Vance Livingston in 1906, and went to live on the Oak Grove Plantation near Salley, S. C. She held numerous positions of leadership and responsibility in her state and county, including president and treasurer of the Women's Mission Union, president of the P.T.A., and president of the Farm Women's Association, member of the Aiken Co. Planning Board and secretary of the Travelling Library Commission.

The eleven children of Vance and Beulah (Carlisle) Livingston are: Carlisle Livingston, John D. Livingston, Frank Livingston, Beulah Jeanne Livingston, Mary Livingston, Max Livingston, Vance Livingston, Jr., Cody Livingston, Madeline Livingston, Gretchen Livingston, and David Livingston.

Daisy Carlisle, second daughter of Thomas Franklin and Mary (Conner) Carlisle, was born in Marlboro Co., S. C., Oct. 20, 1880. After a period of successful teaching, she married Dec. 22, 1912, Richard C. Simpson, who died in 1936. She married David E. Lawrence Oct. 27, 1942. They live near Tatum, S. C., where, as executrix of her father's estate, she handles the rental and sale of farm lands owned by the family.

Maston Thomas Carlisle, oldest son of Thomas Franklin, is representative of much of the best which the Carlisle family has accomplished. Born near Rowland, N. C., Sept. 9, 1885, he spent most of his early life near Tatum, S. C. He received his B.S. degree from the University of South Carolina and Master's [illegible] of South Carolina [illegible] degree from Vanderbilt University. His name is included in "Who's Who in the South and Southwest" as a prominent educator and contributor to scientific and educational publications.

His service in the field of education is outstanding. He has held a number of positions including instructor in science and mathematics, head of these departments, high school principal, commandant of two military academies and superintendent of city school systems. He is Professor Emeritus of Coker College, Hartsville, S. C., where he served from 1920 to 1953, with the exception of the years 1941-43, when the University of North Carolina requisitioned his services. A charter member of the South Carolina Academy of Science, he holds membership in Chi Beta Phi.

Maston Thomas Carlisle married Aug. 15, 1916, Ruth Marie Spates, born July 27, 1895, Gaithersburg, Md., the daughter of Charles Anderson and Clara (Brealy) Spates. Educated at the Universities of Maryland and Tennessee, she taught several years before marriage. She has contributed greatly to the civic, cultural and religious life of the communities where her husband has been professionally engaged.

In Hartsville, Mrs. Carlisle has served as president of the Little Theatre, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, and president of the W. C. T. U.

The children of Maston Thomas and Ruth Marie (Spates) Carlisle are:

Ruth Marie Carlisle, born May 26, 1917; received B.A. degree from Coker College and M.A. degree from George Peabody College; married in 1942, Julius Ducworth Robertson, geologist and chemical engineer. Mrs. Robertson is outstanding in church work and in the American Legion Auxiliary on the state and national levels. The Robertsons reside in Hartsville, S. C.

Mary Clara Carlisle, born Dec. 11, 1921 in Hartsville, S. C.; received B.A. degree from Coker College; married July 2, 1944, Esmond Earle Blackmon of Darlington, S. C., who died Nov. 18, 1949. By profession, Mrs. Blackmon is a teacher of science. She is a leader in the civic and religious life of Hartsville where she has worked with the Girl Scouts and American Red Cross. In the American Legion Auxiliary she has held offices on unit and department levels.
